The Federal and many State Governments are required by law to issue grants for many diverse needs. The Influx of grant money into the economy creates jobs, which in turn creates more tax revenue and reduces individual (and corporate) dependency on government subsistence programs

With our economy in flux, the need to distribute this money and create jobs has become critical.

Many Corporations and Foundations are required to grant a certain amount of their assets annually for a variety of reasons. Foundations are required to give away at least 5% of their total assets each year to maintain their tax-exempt status.

The U.S. Government understands small business is essential to a vibrant economy. As a result, many government grants and low interest loan programs are available to stimulate small business. As a business owner or future entrepreneur, you may qualify for a variety of government grants from public and private sources designed to enhance, expand or initiate your business.

There are even special government grants reserved for the following special interest groups.

Veterans, Families of Veterans, Minority groups such as African Americans, Hispanic Americans, and Asian Americans.

A huge special category just for American Indians or just about any other Minority group. Low Income families, Non-Profit organizations, First time Home Owners, Artists, musicians, Nurses, Teachers, People with disabilities. Even more for those suffering from HIV & Aids. Special Grants for Single Mothers and their children!

None of these Government Grants require a credit check, collateral, security deposits or co-signers, you can apply even if you have a bankruptcy or bad credit, it doesn't matter. Its Free Money Never Repay

Minority Grants

Minority-owned businesses grew more than four times as fast as U.S. firms overall since 1992, have increased from 2.1 million to about 2.8 million firms, according to a report recently released by the Commerce Department's Census Bureau.

Thought Affirmative Action was dead? If you did you thought wrong. Though many of the catch phrases are no longer in use most of the money that was available still is. Congressmen and Senators hold their positions of power by taking care of their constituents. Many of those in power were primarily elected because of their promises to minorities.

These promises are what drives the Politics of the Grant Giving portions of our U.S. Government.
